FACULTY RECRUITMENT

Elevate the Future of Arts and Technology

JOIN US AT AMC, HKUST!

The Division of Arts and Machine Creativity (AMC) at the Hong Kong University of Science and Technology (HKUST) is inviting visionary artists, researchers, and scholars to join us in shaping an innovative environment where technology, art, and the humanities converge to redefine the creative frontier.

WHY JOIN AMC?

A Leading Global University recognized for academic excellence, groundbreaking research, and impact-driven innovation.

A Groundbreaking Mission with a unique opportunity to shape the future of this trailblazing division and re-define the landscape of arts and machine creativity.

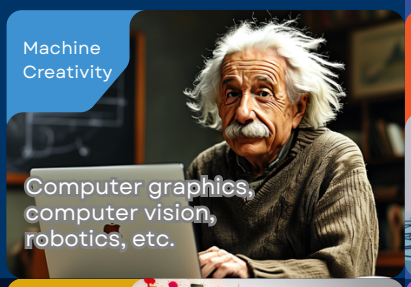

Exceptional Students who are talented, curious and globally-minded learners eager to push creative and technological boundaries.

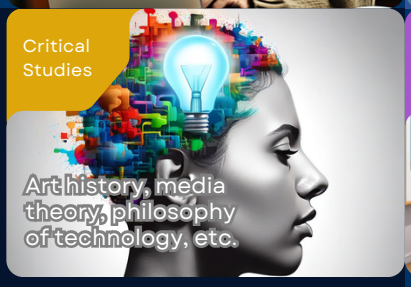

Interdisciplinary Collaboration leveraging HKUST's world-class expertise in science, engineering, and AI to enhance your research and artistic practice.

We invite applications for substantiation-track faculty positions (Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor) in the following areas:

QUALIFICATIONS

- Demonstrate a proven record of research, creative work, and/or teaching excellence in the targeted areas, especially in linking emerging technologies such as generative AI with artistic practices.
- Interdisciplinary collaboration is highly valued.
- A PhD in a relevant discipline is typically required, but candidates with distinguished professional or academic achievements may be considered without this qualification.
